Shoot-out: Rs.500 cr. DEAL was to be signed on May 16?

Investigators stumble upon 'agreement' to transact demonetised currencies

Mysuru, May 19 (RK&BCT)- Interesting details are emerging out of the banned currency exchange racket in Mysuru that is revolving around the shoot-out incident where Sukhwinder Singh alias Durgesh from Faridkot in Punjab was shot dead by Vijayanagar Inspector B.G. Kumar near S.V. Apartments on Hebbal Ring Road on May 16.

The CID has taken up the investigation and though the sleuths are tight-lipped about the probe, it is learnt that the racketeers had entered into 'agreements' with suppliers and possessors of demonetised notes. One such agreement is with the investigators that mentions the deal to be struck on May 16 was worth Rs. 500 crore.

The racketeers had come to Mysuru to procure such currencies as demonetised notes are still in demand for its security thread. The counterfeit mafia is collecting the security threads of demonetised notes to insert in the fake Rs. 2,000 currencies to make it genuine.

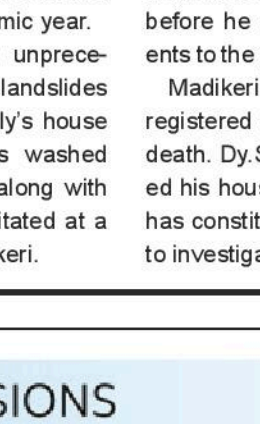
(See SHOOT-OUT on page 12)

What the AGREEMENT had

- Agreement was for Rs.500 crore
- If the deal fails, Rs.50 lakh penalty has to be paid
- There must be three witnesses to the deal
- Talks must be held in an industrial shed
- Place must be free from CCTV cameras
- Preparations of the deal must be made a day in advance
- Deal must be struck within a span of one hour

Child artist who impressed Defence Minister found dead in Madikeri

Madikeri, May 19- A child artist, whose painting was appreciated by Defence Minister Nirmala Sitharaman at a flood relief centre in Madikeri last year, was found dead under mysterious circumstances at his house in Hebbatageri near Madikeri yesterday.



Nirmala Sitharaman

The identity of the boy has not been revealed as the Madikeri unit of Juvenile Justice Board has advised the media not to publish the name of the nine-year-old child. In a complaint filed at Madikeri Rural Police Station, the child's parents said the house was locked from inside when they reached home, said Deputy Superintendent of Police Sundar Raj.

Parents told the Police that the child might have been playing with a veil when it accidentally got entangled around his neck, suffocating him to death. The boy was studying in second standard at a private school in South Kodagu and was to study in third standard from the next academic year.

Last year due to unprecedented floods and landslides in Kodagu, the family's house at Hebbatageri was washed away and the boy along with parents was rehabilitated at a relief centre in Madikeri.

When Defence Minister Nirmala Sitharaman visited the relief centre, his drawings of how his house was washed away in landslide caught her eye and she was full of praises for his talent. At one point, the Minister was in tears when the boy was explaining his drawing to her.

At the relief centre over 500 survivors were staying and authorities had created a space for children to draw and paint. This was one of the ways to relieve the trauma that the children underwent during the natural disaster.

Nineteen drawings of the children were put on display and the sketch by this boy had caught the attention of many visitors, including Nirmala Sitharaman.

In his painting, the boy explained about the horror that began on Aug.16 last year when the house of his neighbour, an old woman, was washed away and the old woman was screaming for help before he could alert his parents to the plight of the woman.

Madikeri Rural Police have registered a case of unnatural death. Dy.SP Sundar Raj visited his house this morning and has constituted a special team to investigate the case.

Last phase polls begins

Bengal votes in shadow of violence

New Delhi, May 19 (UNI)- The seventh and final phase of Lok Sabha election 2019 began this morning in 59 constituencies, including Varanasi where Prime Minister Narendra Modi is seeking to retain the seat. Till 1 pm, a voting percentage of 40.73 was reported.

Over 10 crore people will decide the fate of 918 candidates across seven States and one Union Territory. The States and UT going to the polls today are Bihar (8), Jharkhand (3), Madhya Pradesh (8), Punjab (13), West Bengal (9), Uttar Pradesh (13), Himachal Pradesh (4) and Chandigarh (1). The results of all the seven phases will be announced on May 23.

Repolling is being held in seven booths in Kerala's Kannur and Kasaragod Lok Sabha constituencies following the Election Commission's finding that bogus voting took place in the booths on April 23.

West Bengal remained tense after reports of violence. North Kolkata's BJP candidate Rahul Sinha said he was attacked by a group of men. Stones were thrown at the cars of two other BJP candidates, Anupam Hazra and Nilanjan Roy. BJP and Trinamool Congress workers had clashed earlier this week, following which the Election Commission cut short electoral campaigning amid protests by opposition parties.

In West Bengal, the BJP hopes to make unprecedented gains in order to balance out a perceived loss of seats in heartland States such as Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan and Madhya Pradesh.

Three books of Dr. Hombaiah Honnalagere released

Mysuru, May 19 (YDS&US)- Research Students Forum of University of Mysore and Janachetana Trust together had organised a function on May 17 at the premises of Kuvempu Institute of Kannada Studies (KIKS) in Manasagangothri here for the release of three books written by Dr. Hombaiah Honnalagere.

Releasing the books, retired Judge of High Court Nagamohan Das opined that freedom of speech and expression is essential in democracy especially for writers to come out with good works for the society.

He contended that Akashavani and Doordarshan have literally become mouthpieces of the Government.

Continuing, Das asked writers to come out with literature that can draw the people out of darkness in society which is not possible through browsing the internet but with close interaction with people. He recalled that books have created literary revolutions dating back to the era of epics. He regretted that people fight over ancestral property but not for the books left behind by their ancestors.

Dr. Hombaiah Honnalagere's books 'Kannada Dalita Athma Kathegalu', 'Nelada Mathu' and 'Bharatiya Dalita Athmakathegalu' were released on the occasion.

Writer Prof. C. Naganna, Dr. Triveni, Trust President Prasanna N. Gowda and author Dr. Hombaiah Honnalagere were present on the occasion.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

A group of women in Gurugram decided to go out for a bite. An older woman was also present at the same restaurant. Appalled by the sartorial choices of one of the younger women, she allegedly told the group that "such clothing" is what leads women to get raped.

According to the "accused" young woman, Shivani Gupta, the older woman also told a group of men in the restaurant to rape the young women. Later identified as Soma Chakrabarty, the middle-aged woman was accosted by Gupta and her friends who repeatedly asked her to apologise for her remarks. Gupta and her friends were also joined by other unidentified men and women, who all told Chakrabarty how she was contributing to India's infamous rape culture. Among them was a woman who said that she would not have a problem if her own daughter were to walk down a street wearing a swim-suit. Others spoke about how the length of a woman's skirt had nothing to do with whether or not she will be harassed. Between cheers and vociferous support, Chakrabarty was the lone figure standing her ground, even warning the women's parents that their daughters were not safe wearing less than voluminous clothes.

Man tells Cops that he would rather go to jail than home

Florida: A man in Florida, who was spotted standing through his sunroof while driving on a busy expressway told Police that he would rather get locked up than go home to his wife.

70-year-old Leonard Olsen was detained last week after being spotted by an off-duty Policeman while standing through the sunroof of his car with his arms spread out. The witness, who actually managed to film the bizarre stunt, said that at one point Olsen was just sitting on his sunroof while the car was still moving. After being stopped by troopers alerted by the off-duty officer, Olen initially denied that, saying that he didn't "know about that". But after being told that someone had recorded him doing that, the man told the troopers that he planned to turn himself in because he didn't want to go back to his wife.

Man-animal conflict

in Kodagu: Focus on elephants

Sir,

With burgeoning population of elephants, there has been an increase in the man-animal (elephant) conflict with frequent killing of human beings in Kodagu. It appears as though the entire elephant population has migrated into the coffee estates in search of greener pastures.

Earlier, the elephant menace was confined to adjacent areas abutting forests but now this menace has spread into nook and corner of the entire district.

People are terrified to come out of their homes because of the fear of unexpected attack by elephants. The Forest Department is trying its best to control this menace through electrical fencing etc., but to no avail.

Elephants migrate to estates for various reasons — with change in their food habits, attraction of easy availability of different fruits, cooler ambience, lots of shade, plenty of water and many other reasons, so much so the elephants have made these estates their permanent abode.

What is the solution then? Proper fencing through rails abutting the forests, tentacle fencing, radio collaring, clearing encroachment across the elephant corridor, selective sterilisation of old bull elephants (long-term solution) and creating a separate fenced enclave for elephants covering 150-200 acres inside the forests, tranquillising elephants and moving them to these protected enclaves are many of the options.

However, what is important is the resolve and sincerity on the part of the State Government to address this serious issue and find a permanent solution.

The frequency of humans getting killed/ maimed by elephants and vehicles getting damaged has reached alarming proportions and the Government simply cannot duck the issue. The citizen has a Constitutional right to protect himself and his family against a marauding elephant and should be exempted from criminal prosecution.

It is high time the State Government constitute a high-powered committee consisting of expert retired senior Forest officials, wildlife experts and both the Principal Chief Conservator of Forests to undertake an in-depth study and come out with out-of-the-box solutions whatever may be the cost. After all, nobody can put a price on human life.

During the interim period, the Government should increase the compensation from the current Rs.10 lakh to Rs.1 crore for the loss of human life.

If this problem is allowed to continue, then the elephant menace will reach such monstrous proportions with no end in sight and spiral out of control. Sooner the Government wakes up to the problem better it is for the vulnerable and terrified citizens of Kodagu. We at the Coorg Wildlife Society will be happy to offer assistance and support to Forest Department.

All set for counting of votes on May 23

DC Abhiram G. Sankar chairing the meeting of election agents at his office here yesterday.

Mysuru, May 19 (MTY&SR)- Counting of votes polled for Mysuru-Kodagu Lok Sabha Constituency is set to take place at Maharani's College of Commerce and Management on Valmiki Road in Paduvarahalli (Vinayakanagar) on May 23.

Candidates and counting agents must strictly follow the directions of the Returning Officers and AROs. Voter Verified Paper Audit Trail (VVPAT) counting will be taken up after the completion of EVM vote counting process, he said.

The Supreme Court has increased VVPAT verification to five random EVMs in each Assembly segment/ Constituency. As it is a general election, VVPAT slips of five EVMs in each Assembly segment of Mysuru-Kodagu Parliamentary Constituency would be subject to physical counting.

Two additional micro-observers will be deployed along with the observer. While one micro-observer will watch data entry in the computer, the other will tally the hard copy (printout) from the computer with the originals received from the counting table.

The observer and the Returning Officer have been asked to sign the compiled figures after verification. Results will be declared only after clearance from the Commission, the DC added.

Stagnant rain water turns into mini lake near Outer Ring Road junction on KRS Road

Mysuru, May 19 (SBD&SR)- The Outer Ring Road (ORR) junction on KRS-Mysuru Main Road was the worst affected by monsoon shower that lashed city four days back.

This junction, also known as Royal Inn junction has literally turned out to be a mini lake by huge amount of stagnant water posing threat to life of motorists.

Residents of nearby junction and motorists passing through this important thoroughfare have been inconvenienced a lot while passing through the stagnant rain water contaminated with sewage for over a week now.

The overflowing sewage water from Under Ground Drainage (UGD) line from Jayadevanagar Layout in Metagalli ward number 7 mixing with rain water from a clogged Storm Water drain on the ORR resulted in water getting stagnant near the Royal Inn Junction.

Stagnant rain water near the junction is not only posing health hazard, but is hampering the movement of traffic throughout the day.

The foul smell emanating from the stagnant water on one of busiest junctions where thousands of tourists pass through has invited wrath from the residents and motorists. The stagnant water has also become breeding ground for mosquitoes leading to mosquito menace.

Heavy showers that lashed the city three days back has exposed the vulnerability of some of the city's low-lying areas that led to several manholes in these localities overflowing.

Residents found that the underground Drain (UGD) network was overburdened owing to many residents directly connecting the roof drain pipes to the UGDs instead of letting them to the open drain channels running along the sides of the road.

Residents have also alleged that encroachment of drains and dumping of garment cloth wastes by a garments factory into the drain resulted in clogging.

Ramesh

Corporator of ward number 7, Ramesh told Star of Mysore said that the localities falling in his ward suffered the most from overflowing manholes and drains.

He said that he immediately went to the spot after coming to know the problem, got the blockages removed from storm water drain and manholes using the machine and also got the garment waste cloth that dumped removed from clogged drain and solved the problem temporarily.

"I received hundreds of such complaints from residents about blocked drains and overflowing manholes. Overflow of sewage water poses many health hazards" he said.

Pointing out that UGD pipes were designed only to handle sewage, he added, "If rainwater too is directed into the UGD pipes, the pipes cannot handle the strain, resulting in them overflowing. So, house owners must ensure these connections are removed, and connect pipes carrying rainwater to the roadside drains.

Ramesh also accused the civic officials of connecting the garment factory's drain pipe to the residential UGD pipeline which is against the laws. He said that the civic authorities must give separate UGD line to the garment factory and they must connect it to the main UGD pipeline on KRS Road. But this has not happened and this is resulting in severe problems during rainy season, he added.

Though instructions have been given to the garment factory to stop dumping waste into drains and to remove the same, the management has failed to look into such complaints, he accused.

Ramesh also alleged that the garment factory has encroached government land and constructed a five-storied building and are carrying out their business after obtaining permission to run a software company.

The 7th and 8th cross Jayadevanagar UGD line is also passing through the garment factory and the management of the factory has also constructed compound walls on the drinking water pipeline passing through their factory, Ramesh said.

He said large amount of drinking water was also wasting away from the damaged water pipeline, but the management has failed to fix the problem.

Ramesh said that he had brought the complaints to MCC Commissioner's notice who has promised to solve them.

'Democracy in grave danger, civil society must act'

CFD President S.R. Hiremath writes detailed letter to President

Mysuru, May 19 (RKB&NNN)- The Citizens For Democracy (CFD) has written a 13-page open letter to President of India, Ram Nath Kovind, about the grave danger to the country, which is 20 times worse than the Emergency rule of Indira Gandhi (1975-77) posed to our Constitution, democracy and civilisation itself, and the civil society must raise to the occasion to fight it, said CFD President and social activist S.R. Hiremath.

Addressing a press conference at the Patrakarthara Bhavan here on Friday, after releasing a copy of the letter to the President, he said that democracy is facing a crisis today.

Stating that politicians were succumbing to money and power and are defecting to other parties is an assault on democracy and a serious crime, he said that the role of people is necessary to stop such attacks against the Constitution and hence it is important to create awareness among the people.

The CFD has planned a National Conference in New Delhi on June 29 and 30 to chalk out a vigorous campaign and a people's movement for not only restoration of democracy but also to find sustainable solutions to the problems, he said.

The grave situation that was there in the country during 2008-09 when the mining mafia was in operation and there was no control over them, is happening now when institutions like RBI, CBI, Election Commission of India, Judiciary etc., are being systematically weakened and destroyed during the rule of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, he said.

> Whichever government comes to power in the Centre this time, the country's problems are not going to be solved. The RSS which is supporting the NDA government is taking the country's development back. People know the corruption that occurred in the BJP government. Hence, the Citizens for Democracy established by Jayaprakash Narayan is ready to fight against corruption. For this we are trying to organise seminars to create awareness among the people about the grave danger to democracy, the country is facing today.

The Modi Government has miserably failed to fulfil its promises made during 2014 Lok Sabha elections like job creation, doubling farmer's income by implementing Swaminathan Report, bringing back black money stashed abroad to India, Rs.15 lakh to each family etc., he said.

Calling the Army, the Modi Sena and PM Modi, deliberately and blatantly urging the first time voters to dedicate their vote to the martyrs of Pulwama attack, politicising the Defence Forces for getting votes for his party, the BJP, are all serious charges. Looking at the situation in the country today, the Janandolan movement started by Jayaprakash Narayan during emergency is required now also, opined Hiremath.

JCB must be wiped out: The JCB (Janata Dal, Congress and BJP) in the State must be wiped out and a counter political development must take place. A discussion in this direction is inevitable, he said.

Chandrashekar Meti, Abhiruchi Ganesh, Karunakaran and others were present at the press meet.

'Legal Services Authority always ready to create awareness about law'

Senior Civil Judge & Member-Secretary, DLSA B.P. Devamane inaugurating a legal awareness programme organised jointly by Mysore Bar Association, Labour Department and the Police Department at J.P. Nagar Industrial Area in city on Thursday as K. Baburaj, Marappa, V.R. Prasad, S. Shashidhar and others look on.

Mysuru, May 19 (RKB&NNN)- The District Legal Services Authority (DLSA) is always ready to create awareness about law but the people should follow the law, said B.P. Devamane, Senior Civil Judge & Member-Secretary, DLSA.

He was speaking after inaugurating a legal awareness programme for the Page Industries Garment company employees, organised jointly by Mysore Bar Association, Labour Department and the Police Department at the J.P. Nagar Industrial Area here on Thursday.

If the country's standing in the world is very high it is because of the Indian Constitution. It gives us one of the biggest rights and that is the right to vote. When we elect the people's representatives we should always think and cast our vote as an informed voter, he said.

Today in many places, the public and the labourers are transported in goods autos. This, according to the Supreme Court order, is illegal. Goods autos should be used only for transporting goods and not for public, he said.

Hence, to create awareness about the law regarding this becomes very essential. This is the reason why the DLSA holds programmes on legal awareness, he added.

Page Industries Garment company Deputy General Manager, Production, K. Baburaj, Senior Manager V.R. Prasad, advocate Marappa, Senior Labour Superintendent S. Shashidhar, K. Geetha, Veena, Nikhilchandra and others were present.

> If women or those belonging to SC/ST are subjected to deceit or harassment, they can visit the office of the Legal Services Authority and file a complaint without paying any fees. Till now, 450 cases have been taken up by the Authority. The complete expenses are being borne by the Authority itself.

Govt. Food Institute, boon for Hotel Management aspirants in city

Mysuru, May 19 (MTY&US)- The Ione Food Craft Institute (FCI) in the premises of Dasara Exhibition Grounds under the aegis of Tourism Dept. with support from the Central and State Governments has been drawing a lot of candidates to be groomed in Hotel Management sector.

The FCI, recognised by National Council for Hotel Management and Catering Technology (NCHMCT), Noida (UP), is offering courses in food preparation and distribution, nutrition and hygiene, food costing, English language, computer application, decoration, personal hygiene, bakery production, front office work, house-keeping and guest relations. Candidates coming out of FCI get employment in luxury and star hotels. Unlike FCI, Private Colleges charge lakhs of rupees for Hotel Management courses which has hence made FCI very popular in city.

Nine years ago, FCI was established in Belur, Hassan district. As the number of candidates was not encouraging, the unit was shifted to Hassan where also the situation did not improve thus shifting FCI to Mysuru last year which has been getting good response right from the beginning.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Tourism Department Dy. Director H.P. Janardhan said that the Department has decided to retain FCI in Mysuru district. The Government has allotted a four-acre plot near Bandipalya for FCI to construct its own building.

Good opportunities

Janardhan contended that there are over 550 luxury hotels, resorts and restaurants in Mysuru and Kodagu with a lot of tourist spots.

The hotel industry in the two districts need trained staff. Hospitals and Educational Institutions along with reputed caterers too demand trained house-keeping staff and FCI would be able to cater to those needs, he opined.

Free short-term courses

FCI offers free short-term courses for unemployed candidates in the age group of 18 to 35 years in the field of Food Production (18 weeks, pass in 8th std.), Bakery and Confectionery (6 weeks, 8th std.), Food and Beverage Services (12 weeks, 10th std.), Front Office (14 weeks, PUC) and House-keeping (12 weeks, 5th std.). Conditional stipend of Rs. 1,500 to Rs.2,000 is paid to the candidates.

Educational courses

An 18-month Educational Course for PUC passed candidates is also offered in Food Production, Bakery and Confectionery, Food and Beverage Service, Front Office and House-keeping. The age limit for admission is 25 years for General candidates and 28 years for SC/ST.

Candidates will be deputed for a six-month training in hotels and resorts during which a stipend of Rs.3,000 to Rs.6,000 would be provided to them. After completion of training, the Tourism Department would provide placement assistance for candidates.

Despite the depression smothering him he could not do much about it. It came to such a pass that his friends and relatives started noticing him talking to himself on the road (still the ubiquitous mobile phones had not proliferated) and brought it to his notice. This led to severe physical and mental consequences. He suffered from Arthritis and further with Psoriasis.

Even as he narrated his experience to this writer sitting in his small neatly laid out home-cum-office in Kurubarahalli, surrounded by box files, a computer on the table, there was no animosity or bitterness in Muni Rao Mane's voice.

"I had a habit of reading books since my college days and this, my elder brother Ganesh Rao Mane helped me to cultivate. I had lost my patience even to look at books. It was then that a divine intervention happened while I was trying to search a solution to my problem," said Mane.

He went to Dharmasthala along with his family and prayed to Lord Manjunatha to enable him to overcome the depression that was almost killing him. After the humble prayer, he came out and learnt that there was a car museum. "I had heard about Manjusha Museum in Dharmasthala which houses artefacts, paintings, antiques, temple chariots. I also had heard about other museums with stamps, coins and other objects. But I never imagined that there could be a museum for cars. So I stepped into the car museum with a great deal of curiosity. I never imagined that this action of mine would change my life forever," recalled Mane.

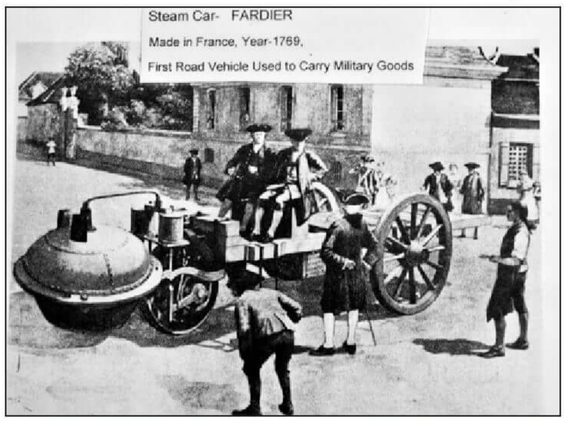
"There I saw, so many good old cars along with many types of bullock carts. But what caught my eye was the Daimler car, which was being used by the then Maharaja of Mysore Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar. It was the Eureka moment for me. My joy knew no bounds because it took me back to my childhood," he said.

Asked why he called it the Eureka moment, Mane said, "Because I had seen this car in the Palace Motor Garage where I used to go as a boy. My father R. Ramachandra Mane was working as a Fitter there years ago and he used to attend on this Daimler car too. Later, I bought some of the car photos from the Car Museum. I returned home and pasted those photos on A-4 size paper, inserted it into a sheet protector and preserved it carefully in a file. Thus my hobby of collecting motor car photos started," he said.

Reminiscing on earlier part of his life, Mane said that his father, after working as a Fitter in Palace Motor Garage, had moved to Pandavapura as the garage was shut down, and worked in the sugar factory for 25 years. He himself, after completing his graduation in Maharaja's College, Mysuru, landed a job in KSRTC where he worked till his retirement. However, by the time he went to Dharmasthala and Lord Manjunatheswara smiled on him, the damage to his toes first and later to the right fingers and neck had already happened, as they had become stiff due to arthritis.

His interest now in collecting old car photos had been kindled. But he did not know where to look for more photos. "I used to visit old book shops to buy some exotic books. One day as I was rummaging through the books, my attention was drawn to a bundle of magazines. When I looked, it was 'Auto India' monthly magazine issues bundled together. I hoped to see some old car photos and lo and behold there were some good ones. I immediately bought all the books and cut the car photos, pasted it on A-4 sheet and put them into sheet protectors. I went on buying the magazine and thus my collection of car photos increased," he said.

Once the 'Auto India' magazine stopped publishing, he moved to 'Auto Car' magazine where he picked up the photos of even the new car models and started filing them.



Mane has an enviable car collection of nearly 1,500 photos which he has classified into Veteran Age (Before 1904), Edwardian Age (1905 to 1919), Vintage (1920 to 1939), Classic Age (1940 to 1969), Maharaja's Cars, Extraordinary Cars and Micro Cars which he has pasted on A-4 and A-3 sheets.

It is not an easy task to maintain them and Mane has spared no effort to put them all in boxes and further classify them in an alphabetical order from A to I. For instance, the A collections called Motor Cars has stamp size to post card size photos. He has classified C as 'The Bible of Motor Cars' part-1 and it extends to Part-4 in the F category.

The two-wheeler collection and the photos of buses are seen to be believed.

He explains about a few of his collections posing with the photographs and takes great pride in talking about the 1913 Rolls Royce 40/50 called the Silver Ghost, made in England in 1911 and owned by the Maharaja of Mysore. He also shows the 1911 Rolls Royce 40/00 Silver Ghost that was owned by the Nawab of Hyderabad, the richest Indian ruler. The other car he displays is the open top Rolls Royce belonging to Kolhapur Maharaja and the 1926 model Rolls Royce Phantom that was owned by the Cooch Behar Maharaja.

He passionately describes about the first two-wheeler that entered the world in 1903, Harley Davidson powered by 3 HP inlet over exhaust and there were only three of this built.

Since Mane had an interest in reading and writing, the box files contain a list of newspaper articles of various columnists, mythological art photos, photos of film stars, jewellery, nature, animals and birds and the list he totals which he has pasted on A-4 and A-3 size is an impressive over 700 collections, that is apart from the nearly 1,500 car collection photos.

The meticulous effort that has gone into keeping this hobby of his alive is really praiseworthy as he has given captions for each and every one of his collections.

"Seeing my interest in the collection, the KSRTC Training Centre Principal once asked me to do a collection of bus photos. Though I found it challenging, I began the collection and got the photo of first KSRTC bus in Mysuru in 1948. Then the Principal asked me to give lectures in the Centre which I continue to do even now."

However, all his efforts to bring the whole collection in the book form have failed so far. "After many years of visiting Dharmasthala, I finally had an occasion to meet the great Dharmadhikari, Dr. D. Veerendra Heggade himself. He spent nearly an hour looking at my collection and blessed me asking me not to let this precious collection in the hands of anyone but to try to publish the nearly 1,300 pages book myself. I know it is an uphill task but if Lord Manjunatha blesses me again, then may be my dream will come true to see the magnificent collection in a book form," he said.

As, I reluctantly took leave of Mane, who himself still rides a TVS Excel Super, one thought that lingered in my mind was how a man if he is determined and lucky, can fight any obstacles and come out triumphant.

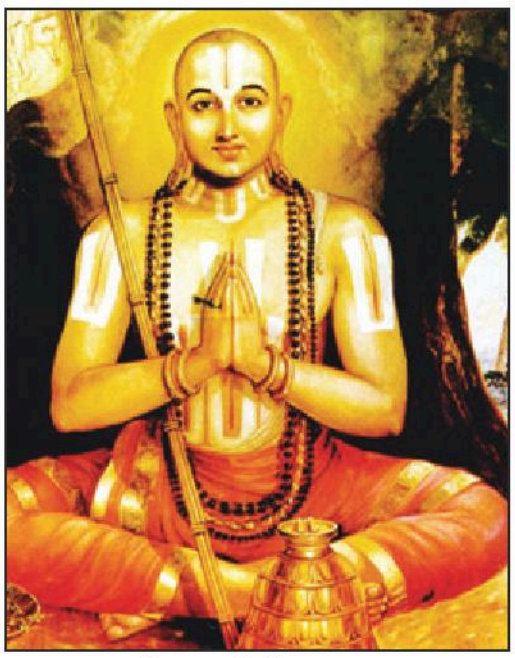
Salutations to two Acharyas

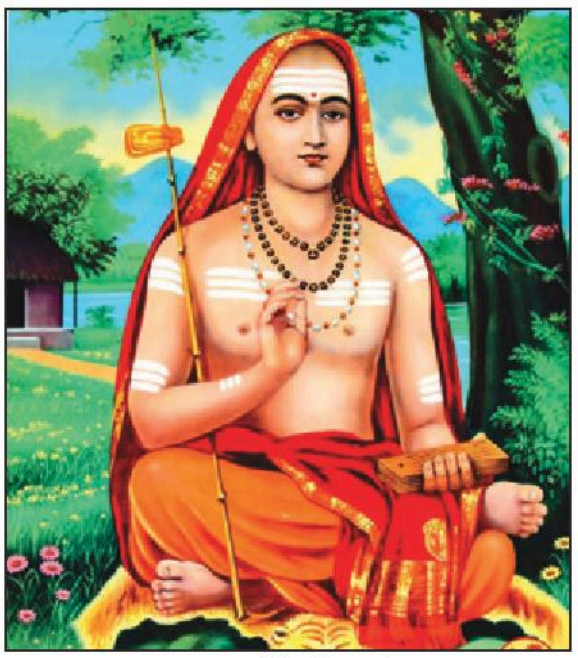
This country is studded with hundreds of religious teachers specially known as Acharyas. Acharya is not just a teacher or a Professor in a University but a Saint who guides the people. There may be minor or major differences among these religions but ultimately all roads lead to the same goal, that is, permanent deliverance from the miseries of this temporary world. This is not new because right from the Saints of Upanishads, Buddha and others harped on this point again and again.

Under this background, two Acharyas, namely Sri Shankaracharya and Sri Ramanujacharya and their life and philosophy are sketched here briefly. This year their jayantis were celebrated on 9.5.2019 with great devotion. This is particularly true in Sringeri and other sub-Shankara Mutts all over the country including New York where there are devotees of these two Acharyas.

The name Shankara means (Sham + Karoti), doing good to all human beings. Sri Adi Shankaracharya is one of the brightest stars in the cultural history of India. Even English and American Philosophers remember his name respectfully. The best Indian example is our former Indian President Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan. Emerson of America also had respect for Sri Adi Shankaracharya.



Ramanujacharya



Shankaracharya

Sri Adi Shankaracharya originally hailed from Kerala, generally referred to as God's own country. In Kerala there is a place called Kalady or Kalaty on the banks of river Poorna, near modern Cochin. Adi Shankara's father and mother were Shivaguru and Aryamba. They were Nambudari brahmins. His mother Aryamba had great difficulty in bringing water and young Shankara performed a miracle whereby the Poorna river began flowing near their home. Such miracles are plenty in the life of Adi Shankaracharya. Shankara had no interest in mundane life and hence one day he became a Sanyasi (Monk) with the permission of his mother. He left home and began preaching his philosophy called Advaita which means that there is no scope for a second philosophy. Thus Advaita became famous all over the world. Scientists even today state two energies cannot occupy the same place at the same time. Thus Shankara's Advaita has been successfully tested by the scientists also.

Adi Shankara's watch-words were Aham Brahmasmi, meaning I am the Brahman which means everyone in the world is a Jivatma (living human being) while Paramatma (Almighty) is the Brahman. He should not be mistaken for the world creator Brahma, one of the Trimurtis, the other two being Shiva and Narayana.

During Adi Shankara's period there were many unholy practices and Shankara asked people not to become a prey and hence he preached the worship of five Gods and Goddesses called Panchayatana. This is being followed in almost all the temples which follow Adi Shankara's philosophy. Adi Shankara selected four Shankara Peethas (centres) in four directions and Sringeri was the Southern one. Thus devotees feel proud and happy that Adi Shankaracharya selected Sringeri (Rishyasringapura) as the Southern centre. Thus Sringeri centre has an unbroken successive Jagadgurus from Adi Shankaracharya to the present His Holiness Sri Bharathitirtha Mahaswamiji, who is the 36th Pontiff of Holy Sringeri centre, along with Sri Vidhushekhara Swamiji. Because of these two Pontiffs, a large number of devotees including politicians visit Sringeri. The Mahaswamiji blesses them all without any consideration of caste and community. The only requirement is that they should have devotion to the deities and Jagadgurus of Sringeri.

In addition to ordinary devotees and politicians, special mention should be made of the Maharajas of Mysore including Krishnaraja Wadiyar IV and Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar. Actually the latter Maharaja has composed many songs in praise of Gods and Goddesses like Shiva, Ganapathi, Surya, Durga, Lakshmi, Saraswathi and others. Unfortunately the exact date of Adi Shankara is not known. Historians have suggested a rough date between 788 to 820 AD. Thus he lived just for 32 years and did so much of work. In about 820 AD he went to Kashmir and merged with the Almighty.

Now let us consider the other Acharya Sri Ramanujacharya. He lived from 1017 AD to 1137 AD. He propounded Vishishtadvaita (qualified monism). He belonged to Sri Yamunacharya group. Sri Ramanujacharya was born in Sri Perambadur near Chennai in 1017 AD. His father was Keshava Somayaji and mother Kanthimathi. His first marriage did not yield desired results. After sometime he had his second marriage with Rakshambal. In the meantime his father died. Then he continued his Vedic education under the able guru at Kanchipurna under Yadava Prakasha. Then there was a difference of opinion in interpreting the meaning of Vedas. Hence he left being a follower of Yadava Prakasha and Sri Ramanuja began to think independently.

Whenever Ramanuja was in a dilemma, saint Kinchipurna used to explain and add strength to his way of thinking. At Srirangam, Saint Yamunacharya was seriously sick and the Mutt was in search of a successor. This good news reached the ears of these people as they had heard the name of Sri Ramanujacharya. It was decided to make him the successor at Srirangam. Immediately through another disciple Mahapoorna they arranged to reach Srirangam. Unfortunately before Sri Ramanuja could reach Srirangam, Sri Yamunacharya had breathed his last. His three fingers had been bent and before the public it was declared that he will fulfil the wishes of his guru. These three were to write a Vishishtadvaita commentary for Brahmasutras, Vishnu Sahasranama and a commentary on Divyaprabhandas (holy works) in Tamil language. This became the foundation for the writing of Sri Vaishnava commentary on Brahmasutras.

In the meantime there was difference of opinion between Sri Ramanuja and his wife Rakshambal. Including all her requirements such as money and with her consent, sent her to her mother's house. This made him free to concentrate on his philosophical pursuits. And he became a Sanyasi (monk). Many followed Sri Ramanujacharya as his disciples. Then he came and settled down in Kanchipuram Mutt. This became highly useful to Sri Ramanujacharya to spread his holy message of Vishishtadvaita. After sometime he left Kanchipuram and went back to Srirangam and took upon the responsibility of being a pontiff of the Mutt at Sriranga. Then he got the mantropadehsa (holy teaching) from his Guru Goshthipoorna. The Guru had instructed that this teaching should be kept secret and if this is not followed, he will go to hell (Naraka).He climbed the gopura of the temple and announced that secret teaching. The Guru said you will go to hell because of this mis-adventure. Sri Ramanuja said even if he goes to hell, let all people go to towards salvation. That was his love for the common men and women.

From there he came to Mysore and received a wonderful welcome. Hoysala Bittideva got holy teachings from Sri Ramanujacharya and got a new name Vishnuvardhana, meaning whose strength increases from Vishnu. As per the wishes of Sri Ramanujacharya,Vishnuvardhana built the Chennakeshava temple at Belur which became famous as Vaikunta on earth. Through the town Saligrama he came to Tonnur (Tondanur meaning the place of devotees of Vishishtadvaita) and began spreading the texts of Vishishtadvaita. Then he stayed in Melukote for about fourteen years and went to Srirangam. He arranged for the worship in Vaishnava temples according to Pancharatra system.

The greatness of Sri Ramanuja is that he agreed to teach the Vedic texts to all people provided they had devotion (bhakthi). He wrote commentaries on Brahmasutras and Bhagavad Gita as per the Vishishtadvaita point of view. He was also a great author and wrote commentaries on Sri Bhashya, Bhagavad Gita. Gitabhashya is famous among them. His other works are Vedantha Sangraha, Gadyatraya, Vaikunta Gadya etc.

After the death of Sri Ramanuja, his disciples were divided into Tenkalai and Vadagalai based upon the differences in commentaries on Vedic texts. He popularised works of Alwars, the great devotees. Finally he cast off his body in 1137 AD.

On this auspicious occasion of their birthdays, it is our duty to pay homage to these two Acharyas and make a solemn pledge to follow the principles enunciated by them.

Shoot-out: Rs.500 cr. deal was to be signed on May 16?

Apart from looking out for two of Sukhwinder's accomplices who are on the run, the CID are tracing who their local contacts are and also identify the suppliers of the banned notes.

Investigating the case, the CID has stumbled upon the 'agreement' that was used to finalise the currency exchange deal.

The agreement bears the title 'Work of C to C Transaction' and has been typed in a computer and lays several conditions to be followed as part of the deal.

The 'agreement' has the date, time and venue of the exchange deal and Rs.500 crore has been mentioned as the total amount to be transacted. It mentions that if the deal fails, Rs.50 lakh has to be handed over as penalty.

As per the agreement, the currency exchange must happen on May 16 between 9 am and 10 am and this time cannot be violated at any cost.

The document mentions that the parties must meet a day before the deal is struck and interestingly, it mentions that there must be a distance of 1.5 km between the place of meeting and the place where the deal will be struck the next day.

The 'agreement' mentions that while the deal is clinched, there must be signatures of three witnesses. The place where the deal is reached must be an industrial shed and it must be on the ground floor.

There must not be any CCTV cameras at the location and the time of transaction must not exceed one hour.

Bouncer for a finance company: Sukhwinder Singh, who was shot dead, worked as a bouncer for a finance company at Faridkot in Punjab.

According to his relative, who had come to Mysuru to take the body back to Faridkot, Sukhwinder did not have any criminal history and no complaint has been filed against him.

Inspector Kumar transferred

On suspicion that there is something amiss in the encounter where Sukhwinder Singh was shot dead by Vijayanagar Inspector B.G. Kumar, the Police Department has transferred Kumar to headquarters, Central Range IGP Office, Bengaluru.

B.G. Kumar

The transfer of Kumar is not surprising as there were several loopholes in the shoot-out story since the very first day.

Senior Police Officers admit that Kumar maintained secrecy about the entire operation to nab Sukhwinder and his accomplices.

"The Inspector claimed that the gangsters had come to exchange demonetised notes to the tune of Rs.500 crore and he was duty-bound to inform higher officials about the operation," said a Police officer.

Jayalakshmipuram Inspector Suresh Kumar has been given additional responsibility of Vijayanagar Police Station and he took charge last evening.

Nanjangud, May 19(US)- The indefinite protest underway for the last three days by farmers in front of Asian Paints factory near Immavu in the taluk got intensified yesterday.

Citizens stage unique protest

Mysuru, May 19 (DM) - Fed up over official apathy over filling up of potholes, citizens staged a unique protest by planting a sampling in one of the huge potholes on the stretch from Agrahara Circle to JSS Hospital yesterday.

Local resident Lakshman said that the road has got damaged as the MCC failed to asphalt the road after digging it for water pipeline. Although several representations have been made to the MCC seeking filling up of potholes, the civic body has been apathetic and as such they were forced to register their protest in this unique way. Former Corporator M.D. Parthasarathy too strongly condemned the indifferent attitude of the officials in repairing the busy road. Local residents D.K. Nagabushan, Paper Manju, Nagesh, Yogesh, Nagaraj, Santosh, Srinivas and others took part in the protest.

WORD OF THE DAY

Countermand

Pronunciation: KOUNT-er-mand.
Meaning: to revoke (a command) by a contrary order; to recall or order back by a superseding contrary order.
Origin: In the military, one's mandate is to follow the commands (and sometimes the countermands) of the officers. Doing their bidding is not particularly commendable — it's simply mandatory. The Latin verb mandare, meaning "to entrust" or "to order," is the authority behind countermand. It's also behind the words mandate, command, demand, commend (which can mean "to entrust" as well as "to praise"), and mandatory. Countermand came to English via Anglo French, where the prefix cuntre- ("against") was combined with the verb mander ("to command"). It has been a part of our language since the 1400s.
Example: Although the Special Counsel regulations may not permit the Acting Attorney General to countermand certain decisions made by the Special Counsel, the Special Counsel remains subject to the Acting Attorney General's plenary supervision. —Jennifer Rubin, The Washington Post Blogs, 13 Aug. 2018...

THE ODD WORD

Cabotage

Coastal navigation; the exclusive right of a country to control the air traffic within its borders.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

The camera cannot lie

Meaning: Literal meaning.

Origin: Printed photographs began to be available to the general public around the mid 19th century. When this phrase was coined, which appears to be just a few years later, the view that a photograph was a faithful representation of a scene, in a way that a subjective painting could never be, was a reasonable one. After all, the image that falls on the photographic plate is precisely what the camera is pointing at. Phrases like 'photographic memory' supported the view of photographs as precise and infallible records. Of course, 'the camera cannot lie' was coined before Photoshop.
Many of the earliest references to the phrase describe people's inability to believe that they look like their photographic portraits. Nevertheless, it may well be that the phrase was used ironically from the start. Photography very soon became more an art form and less a recording process. Now, with digital formats, we are hard pressed to tell reality from fiction.

CRYPTOQUIP

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.
